Some of the major goals for the College of Business are:

1) Increase the overall College of Business Endowment
2) Increase the value of scholarships to meet the increase in the cost of tuition
3) Assist in reinstating the M.B.A.
4) Develop a strategic plan for establishment of  an Endowed Chair, Endowed Professorship, and naming the College of Business

I feel fortunate to be involved with the College of Business and all the great things that are happening. Although I am new to this position, I have deep passion for MSU, dating back to a time even before I was an MSU student.

Please give me a call or drop me an email if you would like to hear about what’s going on with the College of Business or the rest of MSU. There are a number of faculty members who would also love to hear what you are doing now that you are in the “real world!”

Donors Impact Advancement of Programs, Quality of Student Learning

WOW! What a great list of donors. The College of Business is grateful to all the people who have supported the students at Minnesota State University, Mankato. Your support really does make a difference in educating today’s student.

Information Technology Initiative

The Initiative keeps expanding. There are more than 1,200 students using laptops that have wireless capabilities across the entire campus. (We actually have printers in the hallways!) A number of classrooms have also been remodeled to accommodate the new style of teaching geared toward the laptop.

Scholarships

The College of Business awarded 64 general scholarships, 29 accounting scholarships and another 133 IT initiative scholarships for a total of 216 awards.

Student Achievement

Students competed in national sales competitions; 243 students were named to the Dean’s List. Spring semester, study-abroad courses educated students to the world; 243 student-athletes competed in national sales competitions; 243 study-abroad courses educated students to the world, and even in the hallways of Morris Hall here at the College of Business. Here are a few of the great things that are happening that donors have helped support:

Faculty Activity

Faculty published and presented numerous research projects, advised students, created new curriculum to use with the laptops, and helped students find jobs.

Even with all these great things happening, we are looking back to a time even before I was an MSU student. As I feel fortunate to be involved with the College of Business and all the great things that are happening.
