

MINNESOTA STATE UNIVERSITY, MANKATO MEN'S HOCKEY

Written By: Madeline Oines

We are proud to have so many student athletes at Minnesota State University, Mankato and continuously applaud all that they accomplish. We commend their commitment and consistent dedication to both academics and athletics. The Maverick Men's Hockey team has a few of our very own College of Business student athletes that we would like to specially recognize.

Our College of Business student athletes, on the Men's hockey team, demonstrate hard work and perseverance on and off the ice. Edwin Hookenson, a senior double majoring in Accounting and Finance, was awarded the WCHA 2019-2020 Student Athlete of the Year. His leadership in the classroom, community and on the ice were recognized through this award. Dryden McKay, a sophomore Finance major, had the honor of accepting the WCHA 2019-2020 Goaltender of the Year award. Dryden's goaltending stats rank some of the highest in the nation and are a reflection of him being named for this award. Marc Michaelis is a senior majoring in Finance. Marc was named the WCHA 2019-2020 Offensive Player of the Year and will continue his hockey career with the Vancouver Canucks. Lucas Sowder, a freshman Business Management major, was awarded Rookie of the Year. Lucas finished fifth nationally for freshman scoring throughout the season, we can't wait to see him continue in his athletic success. Connor Mackey will be graduating this semester with a Business Management degree and will also be continuing his hockey career with the Calgary Flames.

Finally, we want to recognize all of the seniors who have finished their chapter as student athletes at Minnesota State Mankato; Josh French, Edwin Hookenson, Nicholas Rivera, Marc Michaelis, Parker Tuomie, Charlie Gerard and Connor Mackey. Congratulations to the seniors and the entire Men's Hockey team on a successful season.
